Barrack Hebrew Academy Hosts Grandparents/ “Grandfriends” Day Guests Attend Classes and Enjoy Lunch in School’s New Facilities

Merion Station, PA (November 17, 2008): Over 100 grandparents and “grandfriends” headed back to school at Barrack Hebrew Academy on November 7th where they were greeted by Dr. Steven M. Brown, Head of School. They then joined their student hosts who took their special guests to classes and treated them to lunch in the school’s new dining commons.

“We wanted to introduce grandparents and family friends to our new campus and school facilities,” shares Dr. Brown, “and we were delighted that so many of our students grandparents and grandfriends could join us for this festive event.”

Invited guests shared the same enthusiasm: “What a treat to attend classes with my grandson,” “What beautiful new facilities” and “We traveled from Virginia to be here with today and are so impressed by the students and teachers,” were some of the many comments overheard as guests toured the school, observed classes and enjoyed lunch in the dining commons with Barrack students. As a memento of the day, grandparents and grandfriends also had their photos taken with their students.
